INTRODUCTION

The family records contained herein are not the work of any one person, but they are made possible through the combined efforts of many members of the family with which we treat, who so kindly forwarded their family records to either myself, or to Dr. Warner W. Stockberger (1872-1944) of Washington, D. C. Dr. Stockberger and myself were both collecting material for the publication of a Stockberger genealogy, unbeknown to each other. After the death of Dr. Stockberger, his widow, Mrs. Maude N. (Streeter) Stockberger, so kindly made his material available to me, and a good share of credit should be given to Mrs. Stockberger for her generosity which has made the preservation of these family records possible.

To those who are unfamiliar with the numbering system used in this family record, a few words of explanation would probably be in order.

The letter "T" indicates the immigrant ancestor, Matthias, and each of his known children are given numbers from 1 to 7 in the order of their actual or probable birth. Each one of these children's children are likewise noted by numbers. When the children of any designated person by one marriage exceed nine, the additional children are given letter designation of a, b, c, etc. Capital letters of A, B, C, etc. before a number, indicates that that child was of; A, the first marriage; B, of the second marriage, etc.

A designation such as; T2aB2A2A3, means that that particular person was the third child of a first marriage, of the second child of a first marriage, of a second child of a second marriage, of the tenth child, of the second child of the immigrant ancestor. The capital letter designation only appears when their has been more than one marriage for a given ancestor of the person being designated. The line of descent of any person listed can be easily traced merely by subtracting the last descendant designation; in the above case, the A3. Persons listed with the identical designation except for the last digit, would be the brother or sister of the subject indicated.

Asterisks (*) before the name of children listed indicates that that particular line is carried down in subsequent pages.

The presence of twin births in the nearly thirteen hundred descendants of Matthias Stockberger occurs at least 20 times in the generations recorded in these pages, which would seem to be an unusual number for the families enumerated.

HISTORY

T- MATTHIAS STOCKBERGER, b. abt. 1752 near Schwarzwald, Wurttemberg, Germany in the Neckar River Valley. The first known record of Mattias in America is 1773 when he appears as a taxpayer in Bedford county in an area which that same year became a part of Westmoreland County when that county was formed out of Bedford. On the 3rd day of February, 1794, John Penn The Elder, and John Penn The Younger, as proprietors of Pennsylvania, granted to Matthias Stockberger in a typical "pepper corn" deed, "in Consideration of the Sum of One hundred and three Pounds two shillings & three pence current Money of Pennsylvania" a certain tract of land in Westmoreland county situate between Lycippus and Pleasant Unity. On this land Matthias built his homestead of roughly hewn logs, and raised his family. He was married abt. 1772, SARAH (SALOME) DUMBAULD, b. abt. 1755, prob. at Hagerstown, Md., dau. of ERNST FREDERICK and ELIZABETH (HAGER) DUMBAULD. Matthias and Sarah had at least seven sons of whom we have record, and probably several daughters. Matthias died abt. October, 1822 in Westmoreland County, Pa. Children:

On the journey from Ohio to Illinois they carried with them fifteen hundred dollars in cash. Concerned for the safety of the money, Mrs. Stockberger sewed small patches all over her petticoat and under each patch placed a gold coin. Thus the money was carried safely to their destination. However, its possession was suspected

DANIEL YOUNG was raised 3 miles S. W. of Newark, on Licking Creek, Licking Co., O. His father died an accidental death, March 8, 1821, when he accidentally fell into a vat of boiling whiskey mash while employed in the distillery of one John Green near Newark, Licking co., O., and was scalded and drowned. Shortly thereafter, the mother, Mary Young, left her six children in the care of some of her Kauffman relatives, moved to Western Indiana, where she married a Mr. Howard. The care of her children was taken over by her kin. Daniel went to live with his aunt RACHEL (KAUFFMAN) YOUNG, sister to Mary, and her husband, WILLIAM C. YOUNG, who was a first cousin to Daniel's father. When 17 yrs. old, Daniel went to live with his uncle PETER KAUFFMAN/COFFMAN, 7 miles No. of Newark, O. He attended three months winter school, as he had two winters earlier, nine months schooling was all he had, except what he studied himself, which he did, mastering lessons in French, Latin, Italian, Greek and German. Daniel worked for Jim Gillespie, helped build the turnpike between Baltimore and St. Louis. In 1835 he was employed on the Ohio Canal on a state boat, and his wife as a cook for two months. Then they went home to uncle Peter Coffman's where their first son was born. In 1837, they went down the Ohio Canal to the Ohio river, down to the Mississippi, up to the Illinois river by boat to Princeton, Bureau Co., Ill., where their third son was born, and it was here that Daniel Young received his first license to preach as a Methodist-Protestant minister; date of license, March 30th, 1839. After May 6, 1841, when their fourth son was born, they moved to Abingdon, Knox Co., Ill., then in 1845 they moved to Cuba, Fulton Co., Ill., then removed to Whiteside Co., Ill., then on to Marysville in Kendall Co. in the Fox River Circuit of the Methodist Church, then to Putnam County for one year, and then to De Kalb County. Rev. Daniel Young was one of the pioneer circuit-riding ministers of the mid-west, traveling by horse back, preaching "Hell-fire and brim-water". He was staunchly against slavery, Liquor, dancing and yellow "dime novels". He preached in country where strong feelings existed on the pros and cons of slavery, and violence often erupted during his meetings at "early candle light". He was a fearless reformer who found that he often times had to restore order in his church by bodily ejecting the trouble makers.

Once, after delivering a particularly strong sermon, a man in the audience arose and shouted that what he had just preached was all lies. Daniel rushed from the pulpit to eject the man, but he was too late, except to grab a leg and help drag the man down the aisle and out of the church. Daniel's son, Joseph had been sitting right in front of the man who started the outburst, he turned, and with a quick blow to the jaw, laid the man out cold in the church aisle.

Another time, when the family was living in a particularly strong pro-slavery area of Illinois, a man bent on killing the fiery preacher, broke down the outside door to his home, rushed up the stairs to where Daniel was and attempted to kill him. In the course of the fight that followed, the intruder broke a door off an upstairs room, and was using it as a shield while Daniel was using a chair as a club. The men fell all the way down the stairs, and when they reached the bottom, they had exchanged weapons, but Daniel gained the upper hand and disarmed his assailant, grabbed him by the hair and dragged him to the woodpile outside the house. He grabbed a stick of wood, and was about to finish off his attacker, but his tearful and pleading wife and children prevailed upon him to spare the man's life, whereupon he released the man with a warning to never cross his path again.

It was a known fact amongst his family that Daniel was part of the underground that helped negroe slaves escape to freedom into Canada. His sons discovered their father's activity when they went to the barn in the mornings. The horses would be tired and harness marks would show upon their bodies. Sometimes a few tassles would be missing from the carriage fringe where perhaps some negroe had brushed them off.

Daniel was a preacher for over 60 years, his last church was located at Ottawa, Kansas, where both he and his wife died, and are interred there in Hope Cemetery. Children:

(STEPHENS) SHAY, born at Abingdon, Knox Co., Ill., Nov. 25, 1839, died at Boulder, Colorado, March 7, 1906, interred at Loveland, Larimer Co., Colorado. He md., 2nd, Rock Island, Ill., July 16, 1906, ELIZABETH A. WINANS, widow of JAMES WINANS. She died in 1925. JOSEPH THOMAS YOUNG, enlisted, April 23, 1861 as a Private in Company "D", First Illinois Cavalry Regiment, at which time he was described as being 5 feet, nine inches in height, complexion, fair; eyes, dark; color of hair, auburn; and his occupation as farmer. Joseph was captured during the Battle that took place at Lexington, Missouri, Sept. 20, 1861, he was paroled, and ordered discharged by General Fremont, October 9, 1861, at Benton Barracks, Missouri, as under the terms of his parole from the enemy, he was obliged to not engage in any further hostilities.

Joseph Young came to Hampton, Ill. with his father's family, in 1857. He was a pioneer settler in three states, Illinois, Iowa and Kansas. Some of the settlers' cabins were roofed with prairie grass, and there were no stoves in use. He broke the virgin sod in a field which included the present limits of Watertown (Rock Is. Co., Ill), and hauled lumber for John Deere to use in his shops. After his discharge from the Army, he hauled cordwood on the frozen river for use of the soldiers at Fort McClelland, Davenport. From 1861 to 1865 he lived in Princeton, Ill., his birthplace, and from 1865 to 1871, in Buckingham, Tama Co., Iowa; in 1871, his father coaxed him to sell out his interests in Iowa, and move to Allen County, Kansas, near Humboldt. It was a poor decision, and before the family quit the county in 1878, they nearly were starved out by the drouhh and grasshoppers. There were times when dried peaches were the bill of fare for breakfast, dinner and supper. He planted several acres of corn, and by the time it was ripe for harvesting, the whole crop was harvested by Joseph carrying a gunny sack on his back, and the sack was not full when he finished the harvesting. The drouth and grasshoppers got the rest. In 1878 the family moved to Prescott, Adams County, Iowa, where Joseph remained until 1900, in which year he moved to Loveland, Colorado to take up a fruit farm. After the death of his first wife in 1906, he returned to Hampton, Illinois. In 1912, he was granted a pension under Certificate No. 884403 for his services during the Civil War. After the death of his 2nd wife in May 1925, he went to live with his son, Lester, and wife, in Charlotte, North Carolina, stopping off to visit his sister, Louisa Ferguson in Ottawa, Kansas. His son tried to make him comfortable, but his failing health, and loneliness, and poor eyesight, made him restless, and he decided to enter the Old Soldiers' Home, where he would have company through the days, as son Lester and wife both worked in their real estate office during the days and could not be with him. He had hoped to be assigned to the Soldiers' Home at Leavenworth, Kansas, as he had been there on a visit once, and thought he would like it. However, he was assigned to the National Soldiers' Home at Hampton, Va.

His last moments on this earth were not ones of pain or suffering. Two days before his death he lapsed into semi-consciousness, and at 12:10 A. M., Dec. 1, 1926, he dropped into a sleep from which he never aroused. His heart got weaker and weaker, until the end finally came. The Government undertaker cared for him. They dressed him in Army uniform, neatly pressed. A white shirt and black bow tie. His beard was trimmed and combed. He retained a wonderful look. This was true before and after his death. There were no wrinkles on his face, and he did not get thin and old looking as one does in case of long sickness. He was buried with honors. There was a military escort and band of eight pieces. The funeral was at the Home chapel. The soldiers stood at salute and the band played softly as the mourners entered. The pall bearers were soldiers in uniform. Burial was at the National Cemetery nearby. The band played again softly, a prayer was offered, the salute of three rounds were fired over the grave and the bugle sounded the last reveille and there he was left near by a friendly cedar and guarded over by a stately elm. He loved the trees and he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water; his leaf also shall not wither. This was historic ground, but now is made sacred for all time. His grave is marked with a marble slab like all the rest, with the simple inscription, "JOSEPH T. YOUNG ILL. 1344A."

The theme of Lester's oration at the commencement exercises, was; "Laying a Foundation". Frank P. Ballantyne, brother of Mary, who married his older brother, Owen, was a class mate, graduating in the same class. In 1907 Lester and his brother Martin became partners ina real estate business at Laurel, Montana, which was called "Young Bros. Land Co.", in which acreage was purchased from the railroad, cut up into city lots to be sold to the many people who followed the railroad into town, thereby making a modest fortune. After the business was dissolved, in 1914, he left Laurel, finally settling in Charlotte, North Carolina, where he has remained to this day. He is in the Real Estate business there, and has enjoyed a good business. Now aged 84, he still goes each day to his office. They had no children.

T1435- MARTIN DENNIS YOUNG, born, nr. Humboldt, Allen County, Kansas, July 18, 1877, md.1st, Dec. 25, 1907, MARTHA MALINDA SHOOP, dau. of WILEY WAYNE and TIRZAH JANE (FITCH) SHOOP, born near Whitfield, Graham County, Kansas, May 17, 1886, d. in Seattle, King Co., Wash., Jan. 6, 1925. Martin graduated from Corning Academy, Corning, Iowa, Wednesday, June 3, 1896. The theme of Martin's oration at the graduating exercises, was "The Duty of Our Government". Martin continued his education at the S. S. Still College of Osteopathy, Des Moines, Iowa, from which he was graduated, January 30, 1902. He first practised as an Osteopathic Physician and Surgeon at Loveland, Colorado. In 1907 he removed to Laurel, Montana where he entered partnerships with his brother, Lester, in the Young Bros. Land Co. After dissolving the partnership in the Real Estate Business, he engaged in ranching and taught school. In the winter of 1919-20, he and his wife taught school together in a little country school house where three of his own children were their pupils. In the spring of 1920, they sold their cow, and a few chickens to get enough money together to move to the State of Washington. On the day they left Laurel, Mont. there was a blinding snow storm raging. On the 1st day of May, 1920, the family of mother, father, and five children, the oldest eleven, and the youngest, three years of age, stepped off the train into the glorious sunshine of a warm spring day in Seattle. The contrast in weather, from what they had left behind, was to leave a lasting impression upon the father. The family moved north to the town of Stanwood, Snohomish County, where they lived while more permanent quarters were being sought. Shortly thereafter a plot of ground near Alderwood Manor was purchased, and a two room cabin erected, and the family took up residence there.

Martin again took up the practise of his profession, this time in the growing city of Seattle. For a time his family continued to live in the two room cabin, and the father came home week-ends. It was while the family were living here, that Martha had twin boys who were still-born. In 1922 Martin moved his family into a rented house, made of logs, located in the "Pigeon Hill" district of Seattle, overlooking the Youngstown district. It was an old house, many yrs. old at that time, but has since been torn down and new houses built all around the old location. In 1923 the family moved closer into the center of the city, locating on "Queen Anne Hill", where the children all attended Franz H. Coe Elementary Schhol. In the next two years the family lived in three different houses in the same city block on 8th Avenue West, numbers 2141, 2116, and 2124. It was in that latter house that the mother passed away, on January 6, 1925, leaving a young new born daughter, seven weeks old, and five others youngsters ranging in ages from eight to sixteen. The father kept the family together, though many hard times beset the family in the years to follow.

He md., 2nd, IDA (FULLER) LAMB, who has two children by a former husband. This marriage took place after all of the children had long since left home, and established themselves, and Martin was past his seventieth birthday. He celebrated his 80th birthday, July 18, 1957, at which time his health was fairly good, and he was still spending four days a week in his office, practising his profession. T144- DANIEL EDWARD YOUNG, born in Princeton, Bureau Co., Ill., May 6, 1841, d. of typhus, Oct. 4, 1861 at Camp Dennison, Ohio while a soldier in the Union Army. Daniel wrote a diary of his experiences in the Civil War which is very interesting. His death was a sad blow to his comrades and his family. His comrades of Company "H" (Moline Rifles), 19th Regt. Ill. Volunteers, contributed to a fund to ship his remains back to his parents. In a letter, dated at Hampton, Ill., Nov the 17th, 1861, Rev. Daniel gives an account of the arrival of the remains of his son for burial:

My Son:

We received a letter from you yesterday evening stating that you did not get our Dispatch till the 10th. On Friday the 1st of this month, I received a Dispatch from Cincinnati that the Remains of Dan'l. had started the day before at 4:15 o'clock P. M. Joseph & myself went to Rock Island that night and precisely at 9 o'clock we sent a dispatch to Bloomington, with a request to place the same in the hands of Wesley Evans to be carried to you yet that night. We returned home from Rock Island confident that Dan'l. would be into Moline next morning. When morning came, we went to Moline and found him there as expected the day before. This was Saturday morning. We took him home and on Sunday morning I had him opened to view- Could see that it was Dan'l. but he had decayed very much and turned black. His funeral was preached in the church in Hampton by Bro. Crompton, one of our own Ministers, to an unusual large assemblage of people after which nearly all the crowd of people followed in procession to the Mt. Pleasant Church, 8 miles east of Hampton, where as many more had assembled to see him buried in the church-yard there we laid him for his final resting place, till God shall call him & you & me and Sylvester & all of us to meet a family in heaven. I purpose to erect a Monument on his grave with an epitaph describing all the circumstances of his life and death. I am confident Dan'l. was one of the most noble Soldiers in the Army. I wish you could see the many letters I have from the officers & soldiers of his company all - all testafy of his good character and courage. I will send you a letter from his Capt. if you will send it to me again. I want you to read it and send it back.
Joseph is now at home. We purpose going on a farm in the spring if we can get one without moving too far. We are all well. Louisa has not yet received her school money. Probably will this week.

I want to come out there this winter if I can get the means to come with.

Yours, D. Young

To Jno H. Young

Daniel kept a journal of every day from two days before he left home untill two days before he died which was the 2nd of Oct. he died the 4th. We have his journal & all his Trinkets sent home.

About 1870 it became rumored that there was a large estate in Germany to which the American Stockbergers were entitled. A member of the family who lived southwest of Columbus, Ohio, advised his relatives that there was no such estate, that the Stockbergers were not a wealthy family although some of them, engaged in the manufacture of soap, had become well-to-do. Nevertheless, John Jacob and his brother Mathias, having learned of a Jew in Peru, Ind., who was about to go to Germany on business, engaged him to investigate the case and paid him in advance $300.00 for his services and expenses. As might have been anticipated, the Jew in due time reported that the estate could not be found.
